RE: Industry Announcement

To Whom It May Concern,

Please join me in congratulating Marty MacDonald on his recent acceptance to join our team as our Cold Formed Steel Specialist. Marty joins us with 38 plus years' experience specializing in the manufacturing, engineering, spec-writing, and training of steel assemblies throughout Western Canada. We see tremendous value having Marty join our team; this newly created position will allow us to offer more resources to our customers.

Marty's new role will commence mid-July at which time he will be visiting our branches. I believe Marty will play a key role in helping drive our growth initiatives through his strong relationships with contractors, architects, spec-writers, and engineers. Please feel free to contact Marty should you have any questions specific to steel and the multitude of assembly and system options. Marty will be based out of our Edmonton office; will have Western Canadian responsibilities reporting directly to myself.
